The Engle Log 1955

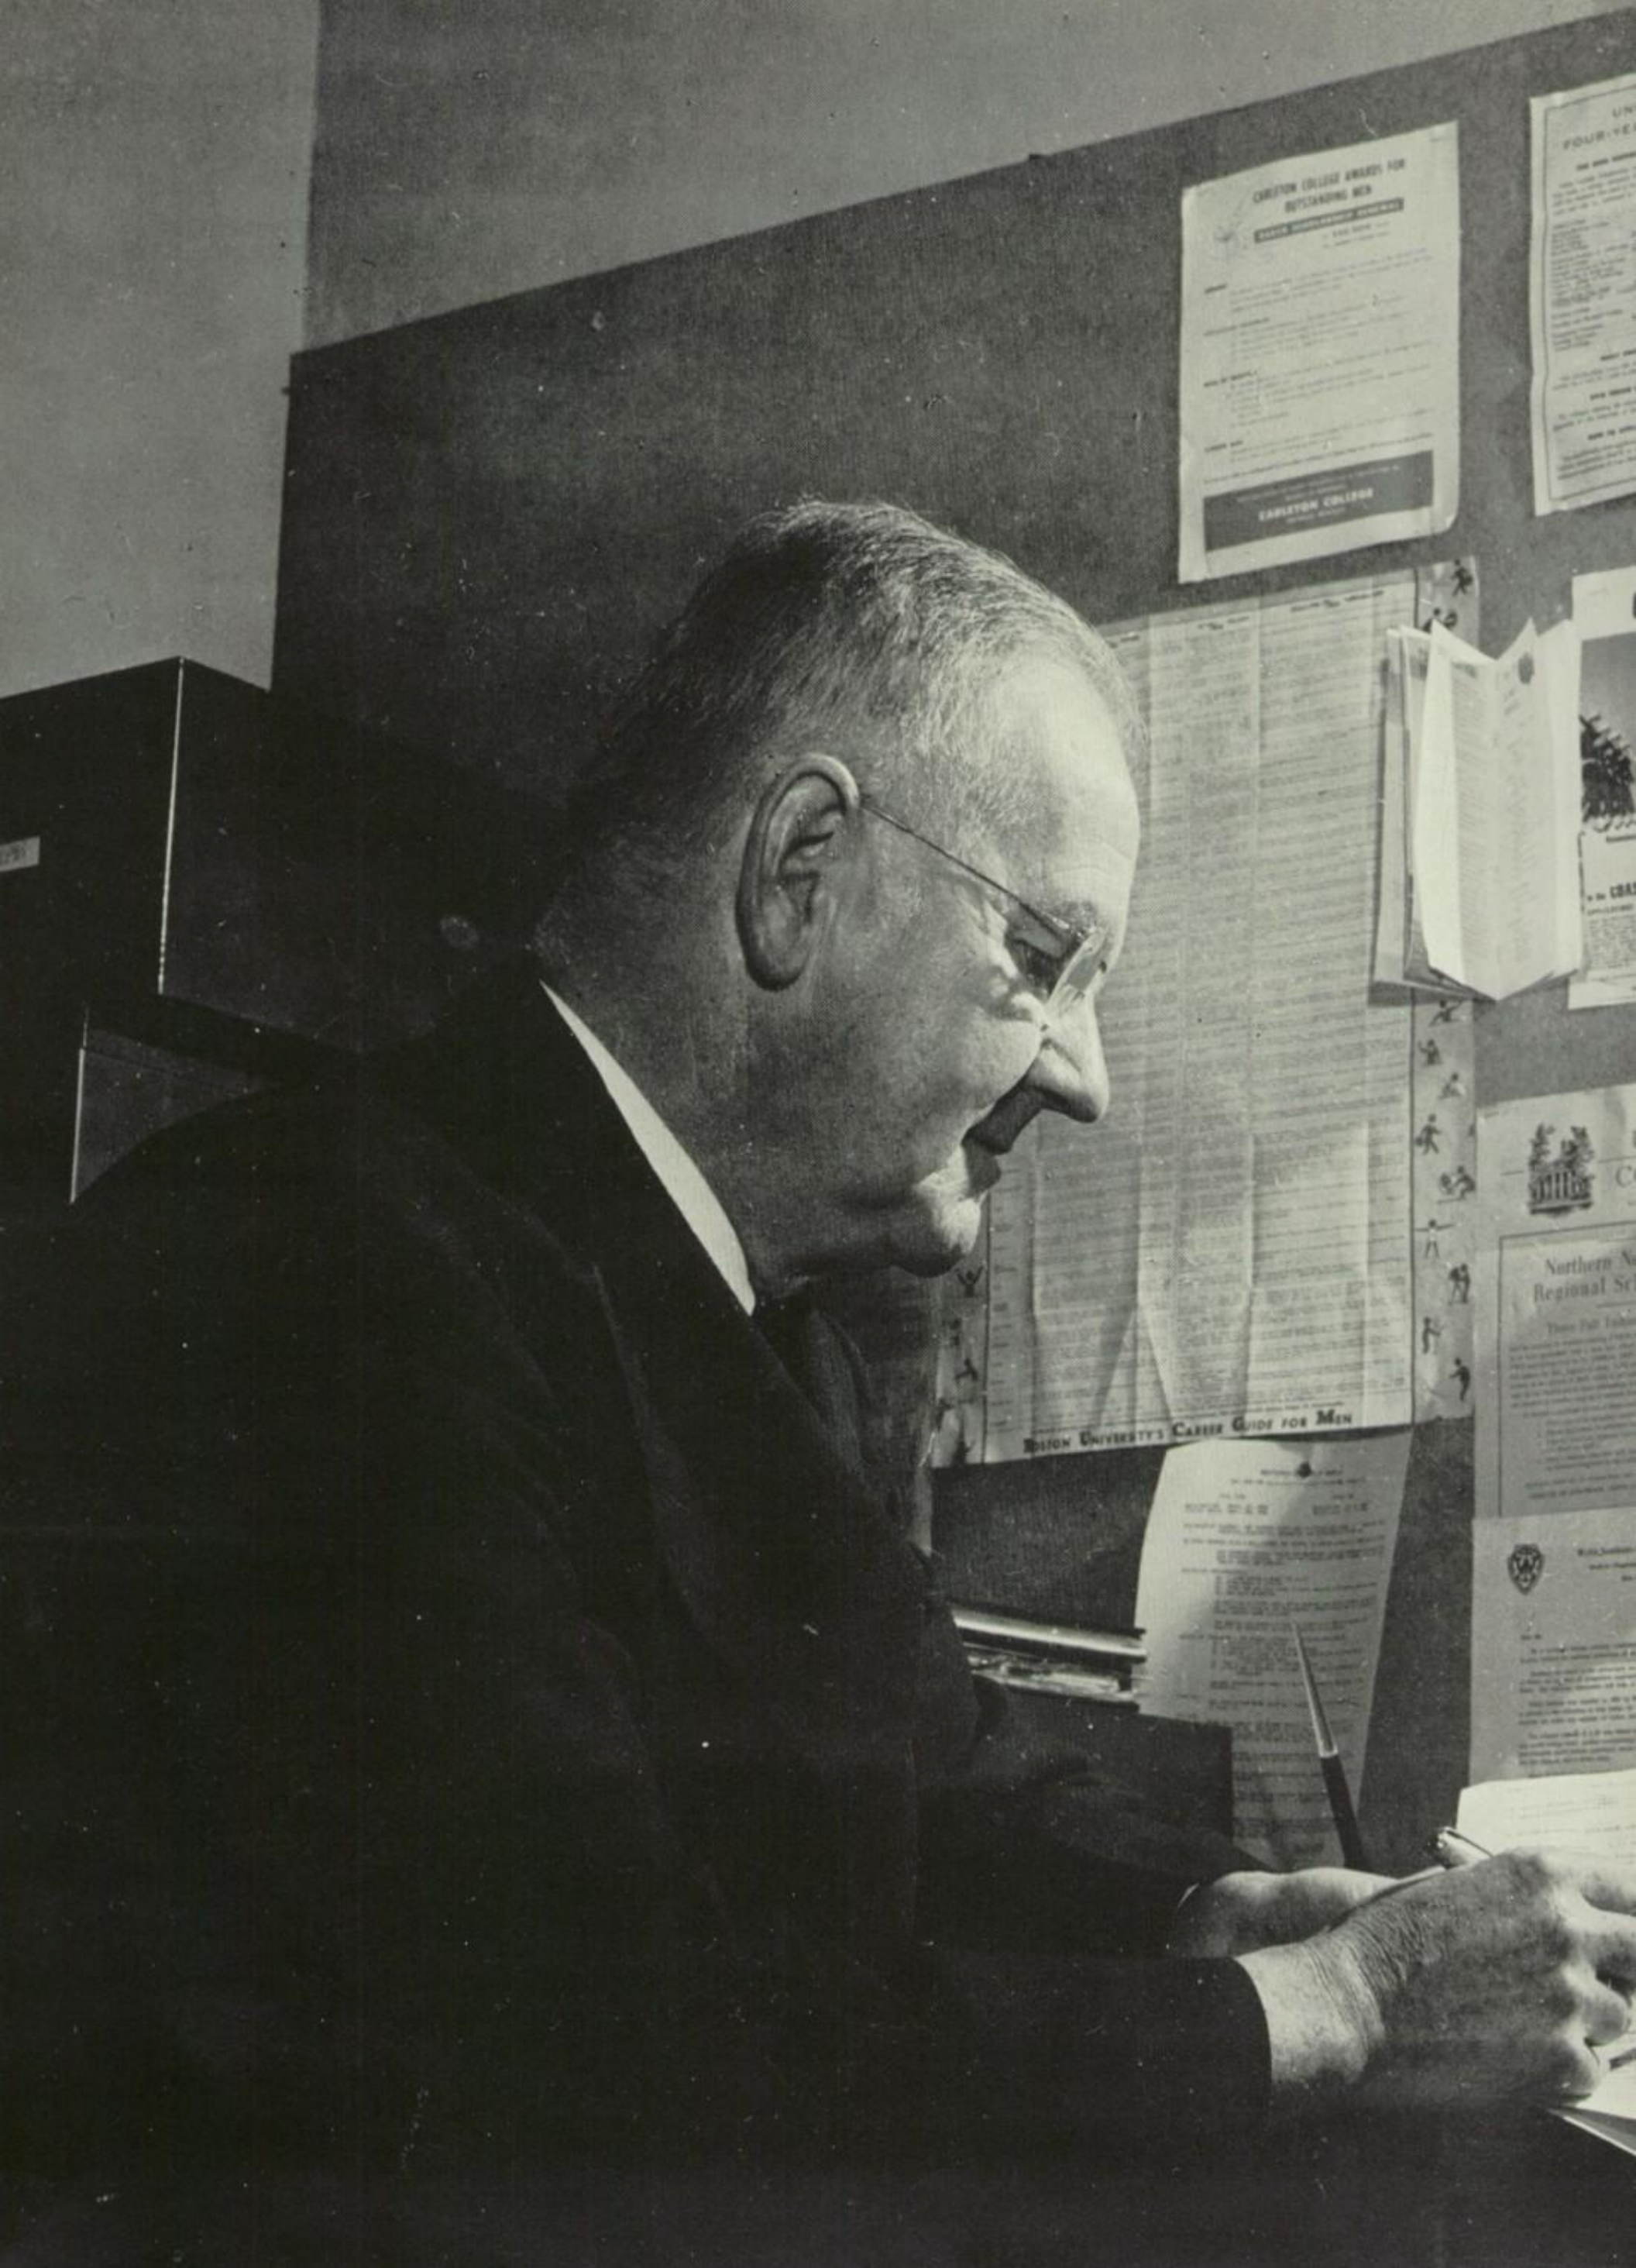

We have traveled on the High School road for three years. Since the Ramsey game that first October night, we have been driving with a permit. We have seen dances, football games, Fun Night, final examination, the Prom and now graduation. During this whole time we have had licensed drivers with us, teaching us, advising us, and sometimes reprimanding us. We shall shortly take our driver's test to see if we are capable of driving along the road of life.

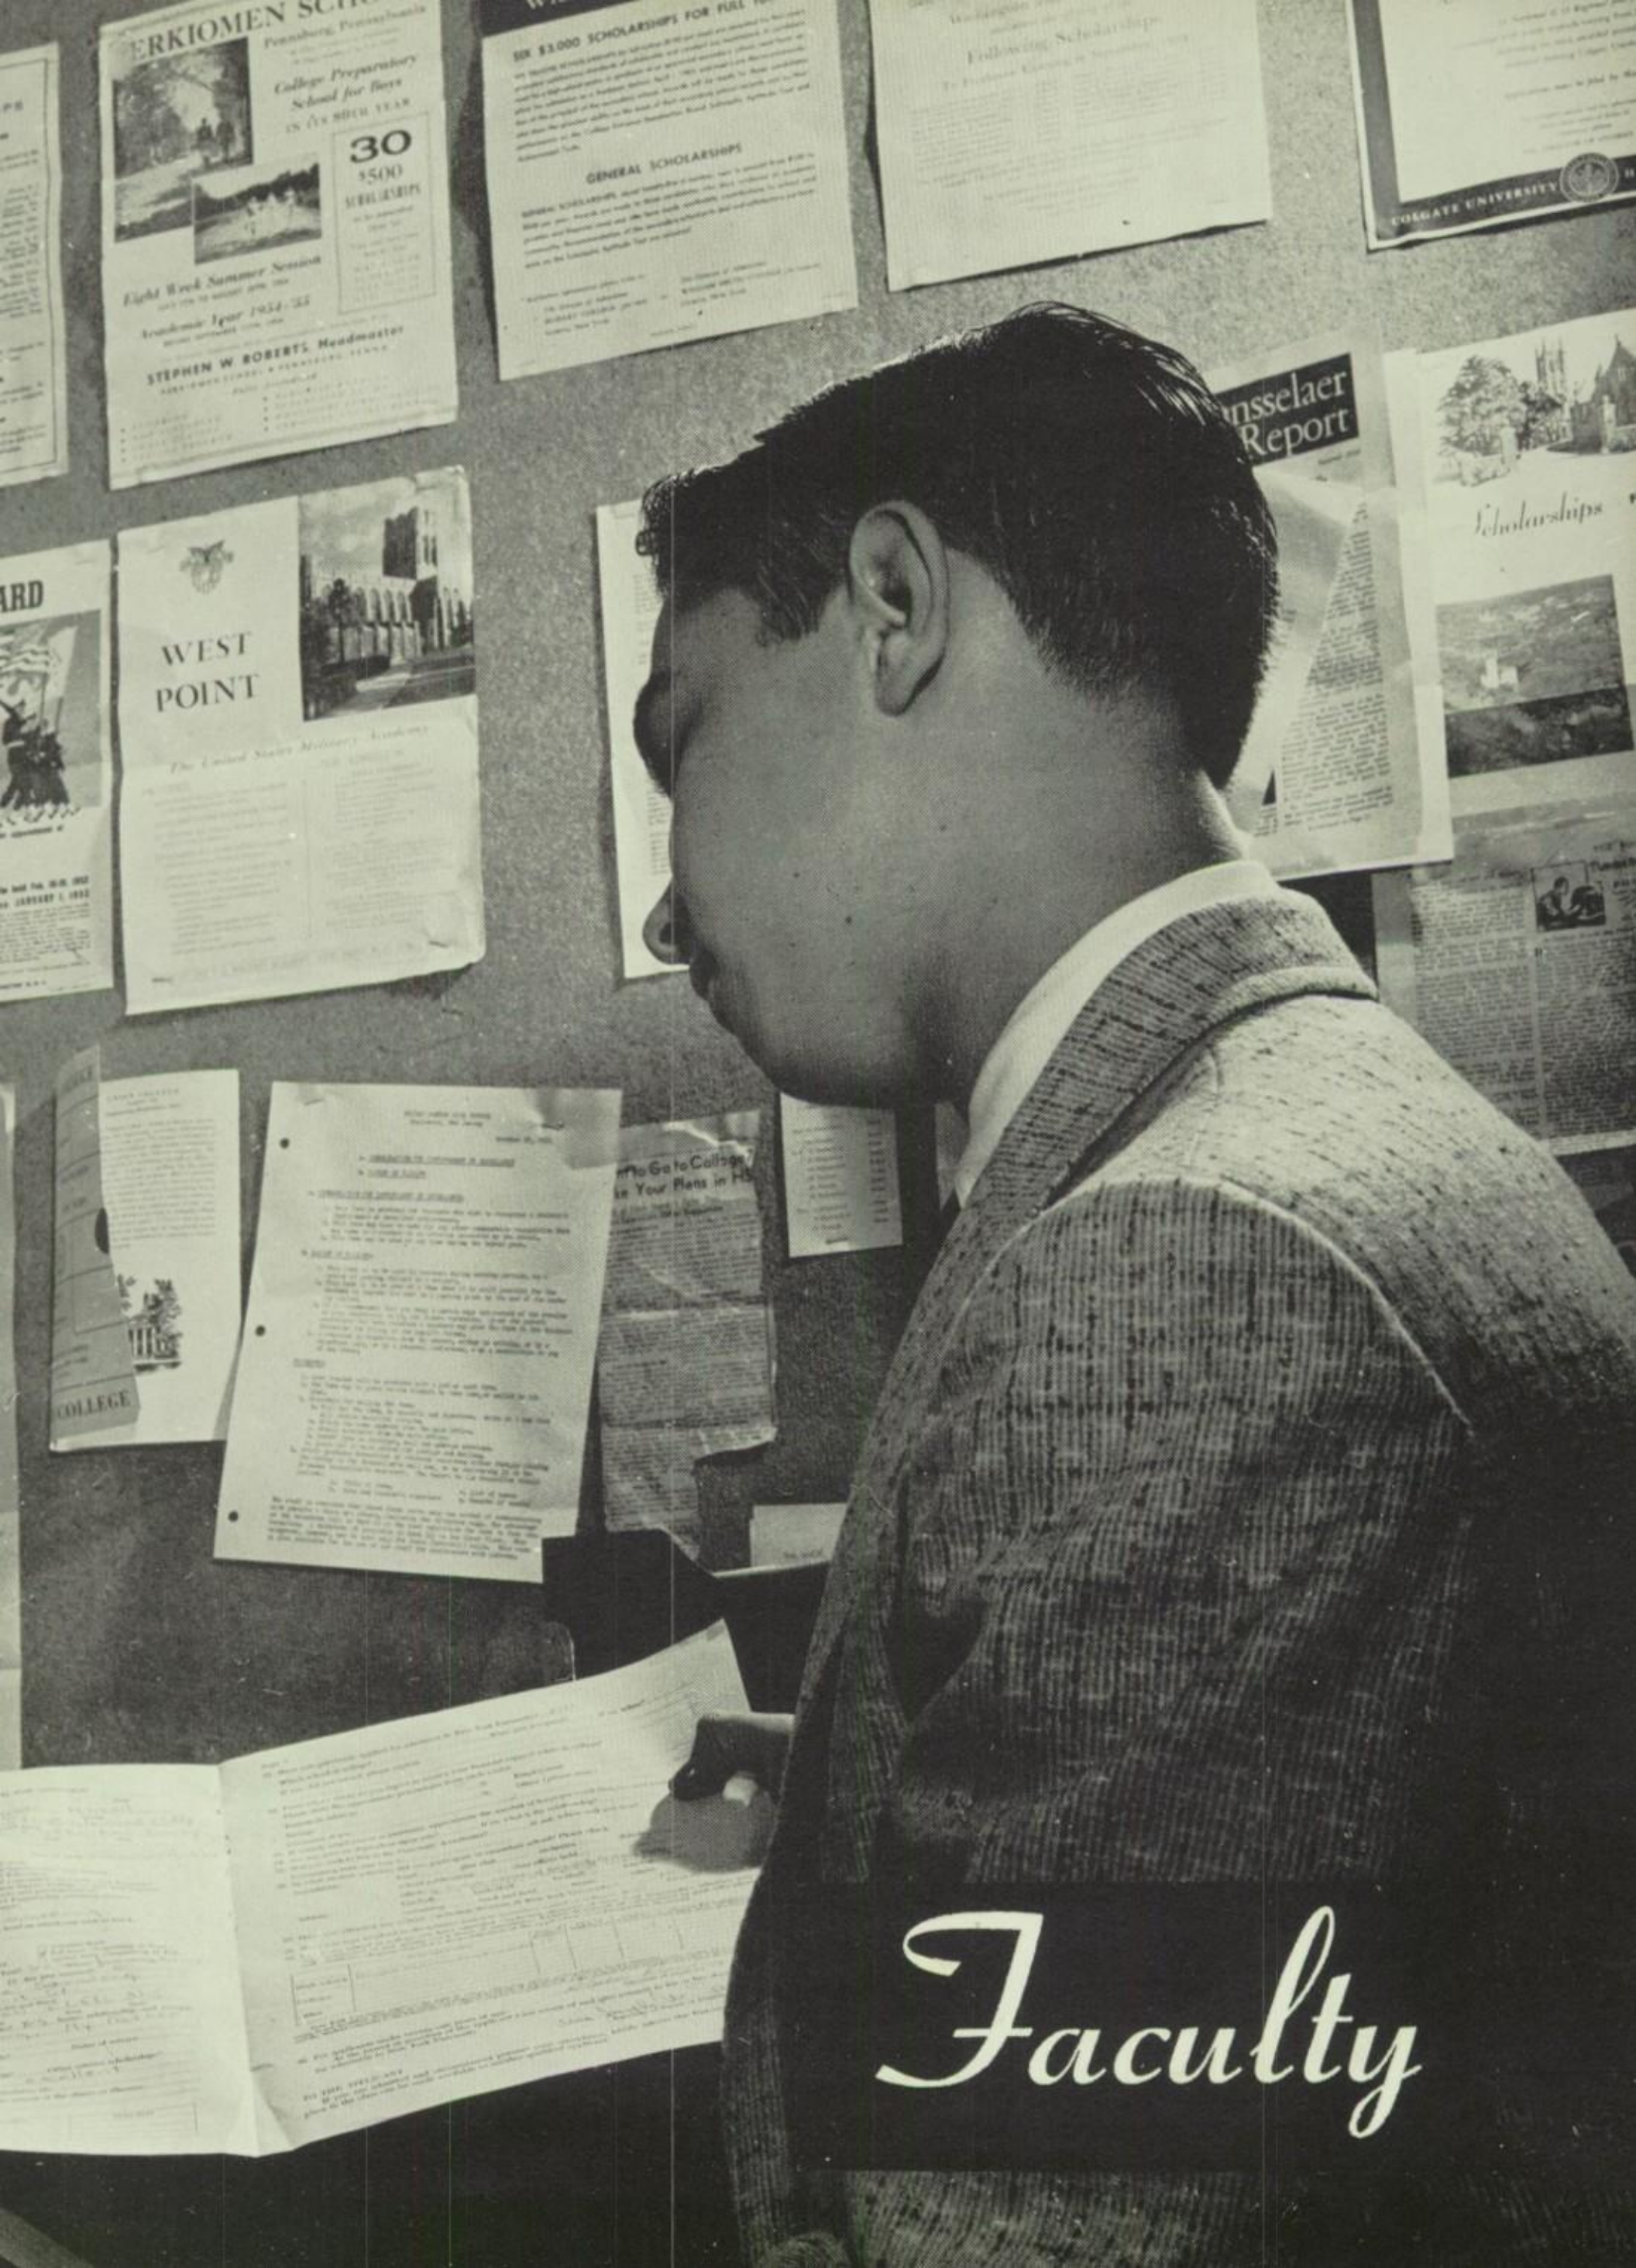

First we would like to express our appreciation to those people who have been on our right and whom we shall never forget.

The Oracle States Its Policy

DMHS. These are the initials of the school. They also serve as the call letters of the Oracle's platform, the principles on which the Oracle sets its standards.

DIRECTNESS. The first job of any newspaper is to present the news, to keep readers well informed. This the Oracle tries to do; simply, directly, without editorializing. Straight news told in a straight forward style, with pictures to emphasize and interest.

MINDFUL. Mindful of the hard work done by clubs, teachers and the various department; mindful of the problems and uncertainties that crop up in a student's life at Dwight Morrow. That is the purpose of the Oracle's editorial column; to clarify, praise and criticize if necessary. Features are also used to show the work being done by various organizations and students.

HAPPY. Laughter is the best medicine and the Oracle aims to keep the reader laughing. That is the reason the Oracle tries to keep its pages light and lively with plenty of interesting features and bright bits of information about students.

SENSIBLE. Freedom of the press can be a dangerous thing, the Oracle tries to be sensible about this freedom. Malicious gossip columns will never appear in the Oracle. Editorial opinions are carefully thought out and discussed long before they appear in print. A hasty, ill-written editorial can cause more harm than good. On the other hand we feel it is the Oracle's job to alert students to problems and situations confronting them, to offer a remedy, and, most important, to voice the students' gripes and opinions.

Driving Course Ghosts Haunt D. M.

Last week the Board of Education quietly laid to rest the prominent promoters of the driving course. These sad ghosts are like the ancient disembodied hums who wandered about aimlessly for 100 years. Unlike them, however, they have entered the Elysian fields 95 years before their time.

Why did these ghosts want a driving course at Dwight Morrow? Well, they sought to make the school safer, to rescue lives, to lower insurance rates and all to cut down on accidents.

Underneath the shoe room lie the following corpses of the driving course: Bruce Bendow, Peter Lenrow, Ke Avakian, The Oracle, and finally the Student Union.

Let's hope they don't turn up in the school's load is on your shoulders, Mr. Board.

Spring Fever Takes Hold

"Take to the air, Junior Birds!"

DM bookworms are humming in the spring days.

Eager young scholars are basking in the balmy breezes too, but they are not in the sun, they are in the sun of the sun.

Students are flying through the air, wings and feet, free from home and just plain walking. That accounts for the glazed look in many eyes on the campus. Deep thought.

President Eisenhower quietly slipped off for a game of golf Monday.

Communists are mooning about and are even reputed to be considering knocking off the Korean War. They want some peace and quiet.

Spring (yawn) Fever has arrived.

Seniors Seek Varied Careers

As June looms, seniors are busy with thoughts of the future. The seniors already have some idea of their prospective careers.

The fields are various, ranging from Molly Abel's hopes to study animal husbandry, to Virginia Earley's desire to become a police-woman, according to Miss Evelyn Beehm, girls' guidance counselor. Miss Beehm also pointed out there is a large number of girls wanting to be teachers, secretaries, and nurses.

Ruth Lange is thinking about being a draftsman, while Jacqueline Hland would like to go into Civil Service. To work with ceramics, Audrey Ansoorge's ideal, doesn't appeal to Dorothy Gates, who likes the idea of being a dietitian.

Peppers Barbara Art and Ol-ger Gennari will go into home economics. Children seem to be Helen Katz's pets and she would like to be a nursery school teacher, while Audrey Klein, prospective Spanish teacher, happens to have a mania for Spanish.

Jessica Turner is thinking of breeding horses; Joan Puhro and Cynthia Sheffert hope to teach physical ed. What does Beanie Soehl like best? Anyone can guess—music.

Not many boys have made up their minds yet, according to Mr. Kirkland, boys' guidance counselor, although they have shown preference in the type of job.

David Johnson would like to be a machinist, while George Pasqual likes auto body mechanics. Bob Hanusek prefers drafting; interior decorating is Joe Urban's hope.

Guidance Counselors Know Their Boys

How much does the Boys' Guidance Department know about a D.M. boy?

Going into the office of Mr. Leo Goodson in the James Kirkland's box will be a warm greeting awaiting him after a little chat, perhaps the counselor will open a manila envelope.

A recent picture of the boy appears on the cover of this mysterious envelope. As the treasures are unfolded, the boy can see his kindergarten record; the Durrell-Sullivan Achievement Test, taken in fourth grade; many other documents relating to his work in elementary school.

Test Records Kept

His Junior high record contains results of many more tests. For instance, the Otis Ability Test taken in seventh grade is stored in this envelope. In the ninth grade this boy made an important decision; he chose to take college preparatory subjects and not the commercial course.

"Coming into the tenth grade a student has already spent one year in his chosen course," said Mr. Goodson.

He added that the changing of courses many times results in making up work and sometimes a longer time to graduate. A change in course could be made only with the approval of the parents and the guidance counselor.

New Parents: The guidance counselor will be glad to help you in making up work and sometimes a longer time to graduate.

From the Sidelines By Joel Kaplan

At Morrow's chance for a spring sports NNJHL grand slam try height... Coach Johnny Winklin's diamonders won 13 starts... and currently lead the League by two full games with an unblemished 9-0 record... Congratulations to Bob who pitched a no-hitter against Ridgefield Park... and to other Richie Wendel, Gerry Grusky and Bob Fisher who have led the club to victory with their crucial blows... with most games out of the way the Maroon Raiders should finish the season in a breeze... if they can get past Snyder... the middle of the grand slam should be Coach Wilcox's well balanced track squad... Maroon runners have superiority by trimming Hackensack and Leonia in their last meet... our Raiders who also bested Teaneck and and tomorrow get a crack at Rutherford and Cliffside... the real test will come next Thursday at Tenafly, which is a really bitter, evenly matched contest right down to the wire, when our mile relay team will get another chance to lose to the speedy Tiger quintet... a tennis title for the championship should climax the grand slam and make this a year in Dwight Morrow's sports history... Coach Ralph Dawson's Harquet Warriors are a serious threat for the NNJHL title this season with six returning lettermen... the Dawsons, who open the league season this week, have been looking for recent practice matches... the singles slots appear to be Captain Spencer Sherman at the No. 1 spot and Bob Law-Feltz Milhomme filling the No. 2 and 3 slots... there is a lot of doubles positions with three well matched teams trying spots... these boys will probably share the first few spots... Herb Holtzman and Joel Kaplan... Ronnie Sherman Katz... Dick Contant and Herb Becker.

Plan Victory

will be a big day for the Maroon Raiders as they prepare for their opening game against Bloomfield, last year's state champs, on Friday at the Winklinmen. Bob Law-Feltz Milhomme is expected to provide the margin.

Clutch Hits, Pitching Spark Maroon

With the season just over, the Maroon Raiders are firmly unbedded in first place. Hackensack, the nearest competitor, is two games off the Raider pace.

Coach Winklin is banking over the team's nine wins and two lost record. He is especially happy over the team's ability to fight back, as he terms their play.

On Opening Day, April 8, the Maroon faced Teaneck High's Highwaymen at the Winton White Stadium. Although trailing for most of the game, the Raiders eked out a victory, 7 to 6, with Bob Springer gaining the win.

Maroon Hope to Clinch Fifth Trophy

Englewood's seventh annual Memorial Track Meet will be Saturday, May 16, 1953, at Winton White Stadium. This meet has grown into one of the outstanding school-boy track meets in the East. Last Year over 150 boys took part in the competition. Over 1,000 will compete from at least 53 different schools this year.

Meet Has Many Events

The meet will be divided into three divisions: Open, Novice, and Freshman. There is a total of 22 events. Each event honors a former Dwight Morrow track member who made the supreme sacrifice in World War II.

The field events will begin at 12 noon; the track events start at 12:30 p. m.

Team trophies will be awarded thus: to the school scoring the greatest number of points in the Open Division, to the school scoring the greatest number of points in the combined Novice and Freshman division, to the New York City PSAL school team scoring the greatest number of points in the Open Division, to the Catholic High School team scoring the greatest number of points in the Division, and to the Bergen High School team scoring the greatest number of points in the Division.

After 4 years of competition, Englewood has won the team trophy once, and the Bergen County point trophy four times.

Many outstanding track men have performed at the Memorial meet. Among these stars are: Milhomme, Olympic decathlon champion, to Bob Mathias, the champion, Charles Cappel, Georgetown—Another Olympian member, and Fred Dwyer, Millanov who won all the mile races in Madison Square Garden this past winter. The record holders in this meet read like a Who's Who of the Track World. Many exceptional records are listed for the events.
